

HAYES BROS. TO DO THE GRADING

Contract for the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Road Let.

START IN AT ONCE

Train Schedule Between Here and Rockford One Hour and 25 Minutes.

SUPPLIES AT BELOIT

H. H. Clough, R. W. Hill and H. H. Jackson, of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric railway arrived in the city last evening in the interests of the proposed line.

Messrs. Clough and Jackson in company with Chief Engineer Finney of the Northwestern railroad went over the route yesterday, and looked over the different places where the electric line is to cross the Northwestern. An agreement as to where the line should cross and the question of damages was settled at once except in one place. There is a slight misunderstanding in regard to this place but there is no question but what an agreement will be reached without any trouble.

Getting Deeds From Farmers.
During the last week R. W. Hill has been engaged between Beloit and Rockford getting deeds from the property owners, whose property they had an option for a right of way. He has received deeds from most of the owners and expects to complete this job by Tuesday night. The company is paying for the property as fast as the deeds are delivered and so far have had no trouble with any of the people who gave them options.

Mr. Hill will start next week on the line between Janesville and Beloit, and secure deeds of the right of way between these cities and expects to have it all closed up in a week's time.
Grading Contract Is Let.
The grading contract for the entire line has been awarded to Hayes Bros. and company. Their contract calls for the work to begin next week and to be completed by January first. The line will be completed and in running order by April 1st, 1902. Hayes Bros. have had much experience in this line of work and have a complete outfit for handling any difficulty which may be encountered.

The work will be started at a number of places along the line where the heaviest cuts and fills are located so that the hardest part of the work will be completed before the cold weather sets in.

Changes in the Plans.
Since the line was first laid out several changes have been made in the plans to insure safety and comfort for the passengers. The route has been changed to do away with a number of bad grades, and in most of the places where wooden trestles were first contemplated steel truss bridges will be put in. The road bed will be ballasted and graded equal to that of any steam road so that a big rate of speed may be maintained with safety.

A train schedule between Janesville and Rockford has already been made. The time allowed for making the trip will be an hour and twenty five minutes including the stops. A speed of about forty-five miles an hour will have to be maintained between stops to make the time. There will be five crossing tracks between this city and Rockford.

Block System Signals.
Two of these tracks will be between here and Beloit and three of them between Beloit and Rockford. A block system of signals will be put into service to prevent collisions and to stop trains coming from opposite directions being caught between the turn-out tracks.

Side tracks and a storage yard will be built by the Northwestern for the company at Kettlewell's Creek near Rockford. The inter-urban line has purchased three acres of ground at this point, near the Northwestern right of way and will establish their storage yard there on account of being able to secure a better freight rate in Illinois than in Wisconsin.

The power house will be built in Beloit and not in South Beloit as was talked of by some. Under their agreement with Beloit they are obliged to build their power house there and not at South Beloit.

Supplies at Beloit.
The supplies for the entire line, including machinery, wire, rails, ties, poles, posts and fencing have already been purchased and a large quantity have been delivered in Beloit. There are now 15,000 ties, a large number of posts poles and rails in Beloit ready for use.

The balance of the work on the road is considered easy to what has already been done. The work of securing the franchises, right of way, capital to build with and the settlement of all legal questions is always considered the hardest part of the work.

This Woman Practices Law.
Miss Mary Philbrook, New Jersey's first woman lawyer, appeared before the New Jersey court of errors and appeals recently to argue the case of a client. It was the first time in the history of this court that a woman appeared at its bar.

GRAND BALL ENDS CARNIVAL OF ELKS

Festivities at Milwaukee Brought to Successful Close—Parade and Award of Prizes.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 26.—The Elks' carnival came to an end last night with a ball at the Exposition Building. Yesterday afternoon there was a parade. There were 2,000 men in line. Following the parade was the annual bombardment of the crowd with confetti. The crowd on the Corso was estimated at over 50,000. The prizes for the band contests were awarded today. The Calumet and Hecla bands of Calumet, Mich., won the first prize of $1,000. P. Shobe's band of Toledo, won the second prize of $500, and the Colorado Midland band of Colorado Springs won the third prize of $250. In the state band contest the Second Regiment Band of Sheboygan won first place, the Portage band second and the Elk's band of Oshkosh third.

At the meeting of the grand lodge today it was decided to let the question of a selection of a site for a home lay over until next year. During the last year $20,000 was added to the home fund.

Estimates of carnival managers and the railway and steamboat officials place the number of visitors to the city the past three days at between 60,000 and 70,000, and this figure, if a fair estimate, places the Elks' carnival among the best of the carnivals given in Milwaukee in recent years. The visiting Elks are unanimous in their expression of satisfaction at their treatment here, both by the citizens of Milwaukee as a whole and by the Elks' lodges. There never has been a reunion where there was so much decoration of buildings.

Individual prizewinners in Thursday's parade were announced as follows:

Tallest Elk—F. H. Willard, Watertown, Wis., 6 feet 8 1/2 inches.
Shortest Elks—W. J. Curtis, Ishpeming, Mich., and C. W. Dierdorf, Grand Rapids, Mich., tied, 4 feet 3 1/2 inches.

By a vote of 25 to 5 Senator McLaurin was ruled out of the democratic party.

Resolutions were adopted censuring McLaurin in strong language for his course in Washington. His voting with the republicans is vehemently denounced.

KANSAS AND MISSOURI NEED WATER; STREAMS AND WELLS GONE DRY

The Thirtieth Day of Successive 100 Degree Heat Reported From Those States—Nebraskans Turn to Prayer for Rain—Relief in Some States.

Washington, July 26.—The weather bureau predicts rains in some sections of the corn belt for tonight and Saturday.

St. Louis, July 26.—The greatest hot spell in the history of St. Louis, and which has cost so many lives is at an end. A cooling breeze continues today. Yesterday was a record breaker in the mortuary office, 114 burial permits being issued, the largest number for one day since the mortuary plague in '69.

Raining in Texas.
Fort Worth Texas, July 26.—The drought in Texas is effectually broken. It has been raining steadily since last night.

Rain came to the relief of many sections of the west and northwest yesterday and last night. Missouri and Kansas, however, are still suffering from the heat and have no promise of relief from the weather officials.

The temperature in Kansas yesterday averaged along the 100 mark, with no wind nor moisture to temper it. The people of Kansas have given up the idea of saving their corn, and are devoting their attention to obtaining water to drink. Some towns are in sore straits. A week ago they reported a scarcity of stock water. Now some report that their supply of drinking water is almost exhausted. Streams, ponds and wells are going dry, and it is hard to imagine what the people of many localities will do for water in case rain does not come in a short time. Only the towns having water works systems have a sufficiency of water for everyday purposes, and as the water plants are dependent on the streams for their supply, this too, will soon be shortened.

IN FAVOR OF DEATH FOR INCURABLES

Milwaukee, July 26.—Dr. Walter Kempster, of this city, formerly at the head of the northern hospital for the insane and an expert on insanity, agrees with Dr. Charles Denison of Denver in his views of strengthening the human family. Dr. Kempster said today:

"While the theory of putting to death incurable people who are not only a menace but a burden to a community is startling and may of slow realization, I believe the time will come when it will be done by law. The process should not be left to the judgment or discretion of any one man, but should be safe guarded so that there will be no possible danger. The decision should be in the hands of a board of eminent men carefully selected.

"Microcephalic children and infants ought to be put to death by law. Their heads are so small that there is no chance for the brain to grow. It is different with weak or sickly children, because they often recover from their illness and develop into well and strong men and women. These changes will take a long time but the sentiment among medical men is slowly altering; so that they look with favor upon the proposition.

TWO DAKOTA MEN KILL 300 SNAKES

Ranchmen in South Dakota Clear Out a Den of Rattlers on White River Bluff.

Pierre, S. D., July 26.—The settlers along White River near Interior, have been troubled with rattle snakes, and it was often noticed that they were numerous about a certain bluff on the river. A few days ago R. P. Whitefield, a rancher in that vicinity, accompanied by one of his men, investigated, and found the bluff honeycombed with small caves full of snakes. The ranchers dug out and killed 237 on the first day. Some of the reptiles were monsters of their kind, measuring several feet in length, and their rattles showed that they had occupied their hillside home for many years.

The following day they returned and dug out forty more, making over 300 rattlers disposed of in two days. They dug into another of the caves which was filled with the bones of dead snakes, which is believed to have been a place where the dead were dragged.

DRAWING OF LAND OPENS ON MONDAY

El Reno, O. T., July 26.—Tomorrow is the last day to register here and at Lawton for a chance in the drawing of 13,000 claims in the Kiowa-Camanche reservation. The drawing will begin on Monday next. The registration has exceeded every estimate. For the thirteen days of filing ended yesterday, the names of 149,925 applicants had been received, or a daily average of 11,532. Yesterday the record for a single day was broken, when 18,050 men and women registered. Tomorrow it is expected, these figures will be exceeded, and the grand total registration will reach 175,000 or over. This will give each applicant of about one in four a chance of winning a homestead.

HAVOC BY LIGHTNING

Dwelling and Barns Struck by Lightning and Totally Destroyed Near Monroe.

Monroe, Wis., July 26.—The handsome dwelling of Jacob Regez, Sr., was struck by lightning and burned last night during the most severe electric storm known here in many years. Only a small part of the contents was saved. The large barns of E. W. Czesbro, on a farm north of this city, were set fire by a bolt of lightning and were burned with their contents, hay, grain, farm machinery, five horses and several head of cattle. There were numerous instances where cattle were killed in the vicinity of Monroe, lightning striking in twenty places.

TEREATENED WITH POTATOE FAMINE

Many Chicago Tables Will Go With-out the Tuber—Advance of From 10 to 15 Cents Per Bushel.

Chicago, Ill., July 26.—Chicago will soon experience a potato famine unless conditions and go a sudden change, according to one of the largest product dealers in South Water street.

The scarcity will be as pronounced in the East as in the West. The daily demand in Chicago is a matter of twenty-five carloads. Yesterday fourteen carloads were received, compared with nine cars Tuesday and seventeen Monday, a total of forty cars for the three days, against ninety-four cars for the corresponding period the previous week.

The advance yesterday was from 10 to 15 cents a bushel, making the price generally 95 cents. Barrel lots sold from $2.25 to $3.35 for Virginia stock.

SHARP ADVANCE IN THE PRICE OF PIE

Chicago Bakers, on Account of the Drouth, Will Mark Up the Price to Retailers.

Chicago, July 26.—Trouble is in store for the pie eaters if the various pie factories throughout the city adopt new and increased scale of prices now under consideration. The kind of pie mother used to make and the kind that mother never thought of making now sells for 12 cents wholesale, which gives the retailer eight cents' profit on the whole pie at five cents a cut.

Under the plan now being discussed all kinds of pie will now be sold for 18 cents each. This will leave the retailer a profit of only one cent a piece if he continues to cut them according to the Chicago pattern. They are undecided whether they will cut—that is, dissect a pie into about eight pieces—or whether they will increase the price per cut. "Lack of rain" is the reason assigned for the contemplated advance in prices.

ALL FIGHTERS ON INQUIRY BOARD

Sahley Investigation To Be Free From Personalities and Jealousies.

SAMPSON A WRECK

Is Greatly Broken in Health and Incompetent To Do Official Duties.

STRAIN EFFECTS HIM

Washington, July 26.—Secretary Long this morning announced the appointment of Captain Samuel Lemly, as judge advocate general of the Schley court of inquiry. Yesterday the secretary decided to appoint Commander Pillsbury but upon objection being made by Schley's friends changed his mind. The official relations between Sampson and Pillsbury were intimate. Luce or Ramsey may be chosen to take Kimberly's place on the board, the latter being ill.

All Men of Experience.
Washington, D. C., July 26.—The board of inquiry which will investigate the Sampson-Schley controversy is made up of veterans of the civil war and far removed from the jealousies and other influences which have more or less demoralized the navy department since the opening of the Spanish war.

Aside from their other qualities for membership of the board they were selected because they had had fighting experience not connected with the West Indian campaign. Some of the charges against Rear Admiral Schley are serious and they are made more so because they refer to an actual campaign, where the honor of the American navy and the welfare of the country were at stake.

All Fighting Men.
The members of the court are distinctly fighting men. Each has been connected with a celebrated event in naval annals. Of Admiral Dewey the hero of Manila Bay, it is unnecessary to speak. His record is familiar to all. His associates, Rear Admiral Kimberly and Rear Admiral Benham, are both retired officers.

The former was retired in 1892 and the latter in 1894. Admiral Kimberly is 71 years of age and Admiral Brennan 69 years. Each saw over forty-five years of active service. Both made fine records during the civil war.

The great event with which Admiral Kimberly's name is associated is the destruction of the American fleet in the harbor of Apia, Samoa, during the terrible hurricane which occurred there in 1889.

Kimberly Sent to Samoa.
Admiral Kimberly had been sent to Samoa at the head of an American squadron during the trying period of our negotiations with Germany there, and had conducted himself before the storm with marked dignity and ability. When the hurricane occurred his entire squadron was wrecked. The Vandalla and the Trenton were completely destroyed and the Nipsic was cast ashore. The story of that great disaster and the heroism displayed by American officers and men under the direction of Admiral Kimberly thrilled the whole world and made an impression never to be forgotten.

Admiral Benham played a dramatic part at Rio de Janeiro during the great naval revolution in 1894, the particulars of which were recounted in these dispatches a few days ago.

Say Sampson Is Mental Wreck.
The navy department people who are on Sampson's side are stirred up over the report which comes from Boston that Sampson is mentally and physically wrecked. He would have been detached from duty at the navy yard before this were it not for the sympathy which is felt for him in his present condition. He is greatly broken in health and does but little work, the most of his duties consisting in signing papers which are presented to him. He has an infirm hold on the public business which comes to him as commandant of the Boston yard and the officers there say that they have great difficulty in getting matters attended to promptly.

Naval officers who have recently been at the Boston yard from the navy department say that Sampson shows plainly the effects of the nervous strain which he has undergone and he recalls important matters with great difficulty and is in a generally shattered condition.

Mrs. W. D. Thomas went to the Monona Lake Assembly for a few days' stay.

The fire bell called out everybody Tuesday afternoon to fight fire, but luckily the department put it out with a few pails of water. The fire, undoubtedly caused by a spark from an engine, started in the southeast doorway of the North tobacco warehouse and when discovered was eating its way into the building.

C. F. Tomkins visited his parents this week. He is enroute to Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is to take charge of a drug store in the famous "Antlers" hotel of that city, which has just been opened to the public.

E. L. Barries now has a telephone in his office at the elevator.

The rainfall here up to Thursday morning for the week amounted to 1-22 inches, more than we had for the two previous months.

Lightning struck the old Gravel Wednesday night but only succeeded in scaling off a little whitewash. Too hard a nut for electricity to crack.

TOWN OF JANESVILLE.

Sunday, July 21, the thermometer registered from 102 to 112 degrees, in different places.

The long looked for rain has come at last but not enough of it to be of much benefit to corn and potatoes. Tobacco growers have given up this year's crop as a failure.

Most of the farmers have finished cutting their grain and have commenced stacking.

Dry cisterns are another unpleasant feature of the extreme dry weather.

Alex Burns is having the well on the Williams farm drilled deeper.

Lightning struck the school house in District No. 5, early Wednesday morning, completely destroying the chimneys, and tearing off shingles, etc.

ELECTRIC LINES GROW NUMEROUS

Thomas S. Nolan Asks City of Elk Horn for a Franchise—Schemes of That Kind Are Thick.

Thomas S. Nolan has applied for an electrical street railway franchise at Elkhorn. The application was made in the name of George J. Hurd, superintendent of the Janesville street railway, who is acting for a syndicate of Philadelphia capitalists whose names he refuses to divulge.

The proposed line will connect the cities of Janesville, Elkhorn, Delavan and Lake Geneva. An application for a franchise is now pending in Lake Geneva, and one is to be filed in Delavan this week. The line follows the natural course through the city of Elkhorn, entering on the Lake Geneva road from the east, following Park street to corner of Washington street, then north on Washington to Walworth street, then westward on Walworth street through the city and continuing on the Delavan road.

From the number of lines now under consideration for which applications for franchises have been filed in the surrounding towns it looks as if Janesville would be quite a center for inter-urban lines.

The extensions asked for by the Janesville street railway give them control of all the principal inlets and outlets about the city. The charter of the Janesville street railway grants them the right to run their tracks on any of the streets of the city without further legislation. They decided, however, to get permission of the council before they attempted to make any extensions.

NEWS AND NOTES OF BADGER STATE

Plymouth—Gottlieb Mohs, a well-to-do farmer residing near this city is alleged to be living after the fashion of the Mormons. It is stated that he has two women in his house living as plural wives. It seems also that up to yesterday the women were content. But No. 1 has instituted divorce proceedings.

La Crosse—The fourth annual meeting of the Battle Island assembly will be held here Aug. 8 to 18. The festivities will commemorate the battle of the Black Hawk war, the battle of Bad Ax. The affair will be very original, consisting of camp life after the fashion of the pioneers.

Jefferson—James B. Fuller, a well known man in this county and a veteran of the civil war, is dead here, aged 65 years. He was a member of the Eighteenth Wisconsin and saw considerable hard service during the war. Death was the result of pulmonary disease.

La Crosse—N. W. Appleman, of McGregor, a postal clerk, will sue all the principal railroads in the country for damages, claiming an infringement of patent rights. He claims to have a patent on vestibule doors and that all railroads using it have not paid him a cent of royalty. Ex-Gov. Larabee of Iowa has the case in hand.

Sturgeon Bay—The mystery concerning the boat supposed to have been seen burning in Green Bay Sunday night has been cleared up. Two barges owned by Joseph Elliott of this city were struck by lightning and burned. The mistake came about because this city and Menominee are in direct line and the light-house keeper who reported the fire miscalculated the distance.

Washburn—The Washburn, Bayfield & Iron River railway will be sold at auction Aug. 20, according to an order issued by the United States court. No bids below $225,000 will be considered. The road is about thirty-five miles long. It is said that the Northern Pacific will gobble up the property.

Menominee—A woman in the last stages of consumption is lying at the Commercial hotel in this city and will not divulge her identity. She came here a few weeks ago and hired a doctor and a nurse. She is well supplied with money and seems to be refined. She wants to have her troubles buried with her.

La Crosse—A local physician and surgeon who was in Madison yesterday states the opinion that Gov. La Follette is more seriously ill than his physicians and friends will acknowledge. The conclusion is based on a talk with a Madison physician, and with outside doctors who have called on Mr. La Follette on other business. He says he must have absolute quiet or the ailment may keep him confined for months.

Kaukauna—The Fox River Valley Electric railway company has let the contract for five miles of wire fencing along the line of the Kaukauna extension.

Madison—F. G. Nelson of Iron River and Benjamin Fleming of Stevens Point have been appointed deputy game wardens.

Appleton—Philip Schroder and Arnold Glendeman have been arrested for alleged adulteration of milk. The former paid a fine while the latter will fight the case.

A School for Women Farmers. In the Women's Home Companion for August Miss Knoke tells about "The Lady Warwick School for Women Farmers."

"In the rural spot on the outskirts of Reading, only an hour's run from London, the beautiful and accomplished countess of Warwick in sponsoring a most original scheme whereby English girls may be coached in agriculture. There are agricultural colleges, to be sure, where in limited instructions are given the wrongly named weaker sex; but in this singularly interesting school in England exclusively for women—the only one in England, if not in the world—is a thorough practical-practical course, if it may be so called, from the raising of chrysanthemums to the building of pigsty and the making of hay-mound. These sturdy daughters of Ceres, in other words are fitted to run a farm."

"This unique school was opened in October, 1898. The minimum period of training is two years, and at the end of that time a certificate is awarded. The theoretical part of the course is systematically pursued in the agricultural department of the adjacent Reading College. Many of the lectures occur in the winter with rigid examinations at the end of each term, while the practical demonstration is done at the hotel by the girls. There is only one man about the place, a horticultural instructor, who comes three times a week. A registry department has been opened. Some of the students have already secured good positions, while others have started independently. In the meantime the students are gaining a snug income by the sale of their produce."

"These girl students are receiving more than a scientific course, for the social and athletic side is not to be overlooked. Though some of the students are up with the lark—and at Warwick Hostel, the lark is scheduled to soar at precisely four-thirty—attending to tasks in the field, they are hours during the day and evening set aside for recreation. Lively contests in boating, tennis and hockey are arranged."

"That this work is excellent from the competitive standpoint of the world may be acknowledged when it is said these fair farmers dote on entering all the big agricultural exhibits thereabout, and carrying off a string of prizes, moreover."

Press Comment. The wave of harmony talk in this state has vanished and the distinctive La Follette organs have taken to complaining of Senator Spooner, and some of them attacking him. They have thus unwittingly exposed their real feelings and purposes. To down Spooner and to drive from place every Republican who is not willing to become a vassal is dangerous business and it will not succeed. There will be no compromise over the question of the control of Republican party machinery in Wisconsin. The stalwarts are alleged to have completed an organization, the purpose of which is to depose the La Follette forces, horse, foot and dragons. For some time there seemed no doubt this would be the outcome, and it is just as well to have it understood from the start. Those who are to take sides now can do so, and the best features of the situation is it will expose certain double dealers and trimmers.—Waukesha Freeman.

Panic in Insane Asylum. La Crosse, Wis., July 26.—During last night's severe electrical storm a large barn located on the farm of the county insane asylum at West Salem, twelve miles east of here, was struck by lightning, immediately setting it afire. Flames burst through the roof and communicated to two other large barns adjoining. The fire was only a short distance away from the asylum in which there are confined 150 patients, who were panic-stricken during the fire. Some ran from room to room, others rushed outside and stood in the heavy rain, while some jumped from windows in the first floor.

Christian Endeavor Bulletin.

A Christian Endeavor society in San Francisco of forty-four present active members, gave over $1,500 this year for missions. This probably breaks the world's record of a single society's gifts.

In ten minutes the Epworth League of Christian Endeavor of Carman, Minn., raised $100 for missions. The league is going to hoe the minister's garden and weed and water his flower beds during his absence.

Japan is the next country to have a Christian Endeavor field secretary, following the example of America, India and South Africa. Rev. I. Inanuma, a Methodist Protestant pastor, has been chosen for the place, and with headquarters at Kobe, begins the work hopefully. The missionaries have been enthusiastic in welcoming such an auxiliary in their work.

The is a Christian Endeavor society of over one hundred in the New Hebrides, composed of men who were until recently naked cannibals with no written language. Their chief who ruled 4000 men, was converted, and went with Rev. Frank Paton, son of Dr. J. G. Paton, to establish a mission in a neighboring village. He was met with loaded rifles, and shot in protecting Mr. Paton, but his beautiful christian death, in which he urged that no revenge be attempted, opened the way and now this Endeavor band of his loving followers go two days of each week to preach Christ in the villages.

House Work

Seems easy to a man, but there is a great deal of lifting and reaching to do; a great many trips up and down stairs to make in the course of day's house work. It's hard where a woman is well. For a woman suffering with some form of "female trouble" it is daily torment.

There are thousands of such women struggling along, day by day, in increasing misery. There are other thousands who have found a complete cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stops debilitating drains, cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, nourishes the nerves, and gives vitality and vigor. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It contains no opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowan, of 122 Hunt St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply, and commenced treatment at once. I had not used your 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for a book in paper covers, or 31 stamps in cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

STRIKES AND TRUSTS.

The strike inaugurated by the Amalgamated Association, which includes steel and iron workers of almost every class, against the billion dollar steel combination, with J. Pierpont Morgan at the head, is perhaps more significant than any strike of modern times.

The labor organizations are led by T. J. Schaffer, their president. Mr. Schaffer is a self made man. Commencing life as a boy in the steel mills, and going to the top of the ladder as a skilled workman, he left the bench for the pulpit, and for a number of years was a successful minister, but the old calling enticed him back, and he soon became the leader of a great labor organization. He is a good talker and a ready writer, but to say that he is always right, because honest and conscientious, does not make it so. He is more dangerous as a leader because of his ability and intelligence, and men are influenced by him as they were by Debs and Bryan.

The steel trust, so called, is simply a combination of large manufacturers, under one management. Its object is to cheapen the cost of production, and if possible reach out to the markets of the world with American goods.

Mr. Morgan, with his great wealth, has already bought a fleet of vessels, without the aid of congress. He is ready and able to develop new enterprises, and every last one of them would be helpful to American labor, but this senseless strike of the Amalgamated association, largely on account of a grievance, and made plausible by the fine spun sophistries of President Schaffer, comes in and blocks the wheels of progress.

If there is such a thing as a trust, combinations of labor organizations, is the thing pure and simple.

The capital of the individual workman is his hands. When they are idle his capital is unemployed. It is bad enough for this kind of capital to suffer enforced idleness, and it frequently suffers in this way, but it is infinitely worse to voluntarily retire from business at the dictation of a labor trust.

Mr. Morgan and the men associated with him are able to live if every industry they control is idle for an indefinite period. Suppose they should all retire from active business for the rest of their lives, what would become of the amalgamated association trust? It would go out of existence in less than a week, and skilled mechanics by the thousand would be glad to find work as day laborers.

There would be less grievances and more contentment among laboring men, if they would remember that while labor is necessary to the employment of capital, that labor is dependent upon capital, and that when it is driven to retirement by strikes and other causes, labor is always the greatest sufferer.

In these prosperous times when the capital of the laboring man is in demand at remunerative wages, and when the capital called money, is so venturesome, that almost every industry has a surplus, there ought not to be a conflict between the two.

It is a good time to work, but a poor time to strike. Idleness will come to all kinds of capital soon enough and every prudent man believes in having in the sunshine.

The English newspapers continue to report that negotiations have been going on for some time between Germany, Russia and Austria, for the purpose of forming a customs union against the United States. It is supposed the scheme is an answer to the threats of economic war that America has made to Europe. Since the war with Spain Europe has discovered that we are a world power; one that must be taken into consideration in all political movements. This entry of another Anglo-Saxon nation into the political arena of the world has not been welcomed with enthusiasm because it means that the position of England as an isolated power would henceforth be one of friendliness for the lusty young republic, which friendship would threaten the schemes of continental powers. This political situation does not seem to be so serious as the commercial one, for although we shall probably never try to conquer Europe by arms, we have already commenced a conquest of commerce and it looks very much as though England would be compelled to join our forces in this competition or suffer extinction because of her geographical isolation. Before this war has progressed very far, European countries will find they are waging a customs war against each other and the effectiveness of their machinations will be dissipated entirely, and we will in the end be able to get a more decided victory than if Europe had offered no combined resistance. England has already refused to enter the continental alliance against America, and she cannot remain neutral as that would mean her certain ruin. She must therefore decide to join us in this customs war, as too many of our aspirations are in common for us not to reach the same goal, however different may be the starting points.

Texas is in the field as a competitor to the Standard Oil Co. Many times, the big trust has endeavored to buy up the gushers but all efforts have failed and a new company has been formed which controls practically all the oil streamers of the gulf. This means that a merry war in the liquid fluid is on, and the western railroads, whose fuel is a serious item, will hereafter burn oil in their locomotives. The Standard Oil trust has been a good thing for consumers because prices have been reduced and have remained uniform; but if one trust is a good thing it seems that two trusts are going to be better. It means lower prices for a time at least, and improvement in facilities and better transportation arrangements for the consumer.

The state of Texas has profited by the discovery of oil more than the immediate increase in her mineral resources. She will become the center of manufacturing activity and her added wealth means more and better homes, greater demand at home for her cattle and food products, she will raise her rank among the mineral states so rapidly that she will soon be the peer of any.

A Grave Mistake. Some of the steel workers are determined to open their mills with imported southern negroes as laborers. This determination, although distinctly within the power of the company does not show very much tact or wisdom. Public opinion at Melrose Park has been suddenly inflamed and is almost unanimously on the side of the strikers now, so that when these negroes do come serious trouble and bloodshed will probably ensue. More tact and moderation is needed to stop the strike.

Sir Robert Hart says that the only looting done by the missionaries was for food and material out of which to make sand bags and build their defense. This certainly cannot be called looting. War was on, and the besieged are privileged to provide for life and defense in any way possible, even at the expense of the enemy or neutral individuals. Sir Robert says that he does not believe the missionaries have brought any one to death who did not richly deserve it.

Dr. Koch has earned the fame the world is bestowing on him. Among all the ill men is he, to nothing seems worse than consumption, and yet this man has not only given the world a careful description of the germ and its habits, but is constantly giving methods of fighting the disease. It may be that prevention will conquer the disease as effectually in time as a cure.

The work of Ellis B. Usher on his late trip to Kansas for the Milwaukee Journal is opportune, and will have a tendency to check the tide of populism that threatens to flood the state under the present administration. The Journal is to be congratulated on its spirit of foresight and enterprise.

The people of Wisconsin, regardless of party, would regard it as a great honor if Senator John C. Spooner should be called to the office of chief executive of the nation in 1904. The republicans of the state will also take pleasure in returning him to the senate in 1902.

Chicago and Detroit may kick on the looks of the "sidewalk boat," but yachts don't win races on their looks. We want for our representative the boat that can beat the Canadian representative, no matter how she looks.

Admiral Cervera can be relied upon as a good witness for Admiral Schley. He was there and did not see any one but himself, doing any running away.

The office of constable has frequently been degraded into what a Chicago paper calls "legalized highwaymen." These constables are the only people who can enter homes and carry off the furniture without fear of arrest as burglars.

Newport has again been startled by a bombshell explosion. It was not a society scandal this time but a shell fired by accident from the Kearsarge.

The Indians have earned enough to hold a blueberry dance, and we will have to wait a few days for another dish of berries.

CHILDREN PLAY AT LAWN PARTY

Last evening about fifty of the little friends of Corinne and Jean McLean, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLean were happily entertained at the home of their uncle, Alderman J. B. McLean, on Center avenue. The occasion was a lawn party and the spacious lawn was transformed into a children's paradise by an abundance of hammocks and swings, while white tents dotted the green grassy carpet, making charming retreats for the children.

The little people in whose honor the party was given by their mother and their aunt, Mrs. J. B. McLean, were assisted in entertaining the guests by their mother and aunt who were ably assisted by a number of friends. Everything that could possibly be done for the happiness of the little people had been thought of and provided for. The Orpheus mandolin orchestra furnished exquisite music, lemonade and frappe were served at prettily ornamented booths and from four until eight o'clock the children had one continuous jolly time.

An elaborate supper was served on the lawn and as daintily dressed children were seated before the feast of good things that were provided for them they made as pretty a picture as ever gladdened the eyes of a lover of children. The entire party was a very pretty affair and a most pleasant success.

Mahoney to Conduct the Star. After this week's issue of the Catholic Star, J. L. Mahoney, its owner and proprietor, will resume the active management of the paper which for the past six months has been conducted for the benefit of St. Mary's new church building with Rev. Father W. A. Goebel as editor in chief. Father Goebel has been assisted in his duties by several of the young ladies of the church who donated their services and Mr. Mahoney's unique donation toward the church building fund has resulted in a neat sum. With the proceeds of the venture, which the dauntless courage of Father Goebel and the untiring efforts of the editorial staff have made a success, a handsome Catholic Star window will be purchased for the new building.

Overcome by Heat. Miss Myrtle Lawrence, of 213 West Bluff street, an employee of the Janesville Clothing company, was overcome with heat this morning. She was taken very suddenly ill and for some time her life was despaired of. Dr. James Gibson was called and succeeded in allaying her sufferings so she could be taken to her home. She is now somewhat better, but is still very sick.

INSTITUTE WORK AT AN END TODAY

ROCK COUNTY TEACHERS CLOSE A PROFITABLE SESSION.

Excellent Work of Miss Anna McNeil of Madison, State Librarian, in the Educational Department—Superintendent Harvey Explains New School Law Passed Last Winter.

Miss Anna McNeil of Madison, state librarian in the educational department returned to Madison last evening, after having been here for a part of the week to attend the teachers' institute and give instructions in library readings. Her visit and the work she is doing is of special interest to the people of this city because Miss McNeil is a Janesville girl. She was graduated from the Janesville High school in the class of 1890 and for several years was one of the teachers at the Jefferson school. Then she went to the Milwaukee normal from which she was graduated with honors only to be installed as librarian of the normal school. This last spring when the position of state librarian was made vacant by the resignation of Miss Schreiber, who went East, Miss McNeil received the appointment. The attendant salary is $1,400 a year. This recognition of her ability and excellent work has redounded to the credit of the state department of public instruction for Miss McNeil has filled the position splendidly and is admirably qualified for its work.

This was exemplified by her work in the general direction of the school libraries throughout the state and she brought with her to this city a sample library which would be suitable for the country school. She explained the use of these books in connection with the school studies and showed herself to be thoroughly informed both as to the importance of the library and the needs of the teachers. Her class exercises were eminently practical and were a valuable factor in the institute work.

State Superintendent L. D. Harvey spent yesterday at the institute and in the afternoon he made an excellent address, explaining the new educational laws which have recently been passed by the state legislature and congratulating the institute conductors very highly on the work which has been done this year. He spoke very highly of the institute and later in private conference with the institute conductors he said that without doubt another institute would be held in Janesville next summer.

With today's sessions the most successful and altogether satisfactory institute ever held in Rock county came to a close. It has been continued at the high school building for the past three weeks and the total enrollment has been 143, about twenty more than attended last year's institute. The institute was held in July rather than August in order to escape the intense heat of the latter month and the county superintendents look on the result of this choice of time as a rather unpleasant joke. It was thought that the excessive heat would materially cut down the attendance and it doubtless has had its effect, although those interested consider the perseverance of the attending teachers remarkable. Quite a number have been sick at their boarding houses and some have been forced to give up the work but the majority of the teachers have stayed by their studies bravely. Very few regretted the arrival of the last day, however.

County Superintendents David Thorne and William Ross, under whose direction the institute has been conducted, are very much pleased with its success and especially with the work done by the conductors, Supt. H. C. Buell, Principal R. E. Loveland and Prof. C. A. Upham, of the Whitewater Normal. Messrs. Thorne and Ross say that the conductors have done the best work that has ever been done under their direction and that they deserve the highest credit for the excellence of their work, for their bearing before their classes and for their willingness to work even beyond the amount required of them. On the other hand, the conductors have found it a pleasure to work with the county superintendents and the institute closed with the best of feeling between all those who have been associated in its work.

Supts. Ross and Thorne have expressed themselves on more than one occasion as deeply grateful to the local board of education and through them to the people of Janesville for the use of the high school building and say that the fine accommodations which it affords have had a large part in contributing to the success of the institute.

STATE OPTICIANS ADJOURN.

Important Session of the Wisconsin State Optical Society

W. F. Hayes the eye specialist is home from Milwaukee where he presided as chairman of the state board of examiners of the Wisconsin State Optical society. The session proved a most interesting one as it brought together the leading eye specialists in this section of the country. The position of the chairman of the examining board is an honor that Mr. Hayes can well feel proud of. It is a position that involves much responsibility. The Milwaukee Sentinel devoted considerable space to the meeting and in part printed the following:

The Wisconsin State Optical society conducted its semi-annual meeting at noon yesterday and adjourned, to meet again next January.

The constitution of the society was so amended as to compel each applicant for membership to pass an examination held under the auspices of the society's examining board, whether a graduate of an optical college or not. A proposition to hold the January meeting at Madison was defeated and the meeting will be held in Milwaukee.

A resolution expressing sympathy with the object of the American association of Opticians was passed and W. F. Hayes of Janesville was appointed to prepare a list of the practicing opticians of the state.

TRY TO DISSOLVE THE INJUNCTION

A motion that they would apply to Judge Seibecker, to have the injunction granted by Judge Sale, restraining the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road from crossing Prospect avenue dissolved, has been served on the city. The matter will come up on Monday next, and the company hope to be successful in getting the injunction dissolved.

It is hoped by all concerned that a peaceful settlement of the matter may be secured, and the railroad company allowed to lay the tracks it desires, and complete the freight station.

FRANK SMITH IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Petty Thief About a Hotel, Caught by Chief Hogan—He Was Ready to Leave Town.

Frank Smith, a laborer, who gives Chicago as his home, and who has been working for the railroad companies in this city, was before the municipal court this morning charged with burglary. The warrant charges him with stealing a suit of clothes valued at $12, a gold watch and chain valued at $6 and a pair of spectacles valued at $2 from John Smalling and a pair of pants valued at $2.50 and fifty cents in money from William Donning. He waived examination and his trial was set for August 9 at 10 o'clock. In default of $800 bail he went to jail.

Smith has been around the city for some time working for the railroad companies and boarded at Watson's hotel on West Milwaukee street. Smalling and Donning had left en route at Watson's. Wednesday morning Smith did not go to work and after Smalling and Donning had left entered their rooms and helped himself to their clothes and other property. When Smalling and Donning returned to their rooms Wednesday they discovered their loss and notified Mr. Watson.

He immediately hunted up Chief Hogan, told him of the theft, and gave him a description of the man. Hogan started out at once to look for him and found him up in the tower with the gate man at the Academy street crossing. He took him to the lock-up where he denied taking the goods. He had a ticket to Chicago in his pocket and was waiting for the 5:10 p. m. train on the St. Paul to get out of town. Chief Hogan later found the clothes tied up in two bundles at the St. Paul station and the watch, chain and charm in the coat suitcase at the gate man's tower where Smith had dropped them when he was found by the chief.

On account of the absence of the district attorney from the city the trial was postponed until August 9.

Davis and Edward Davis, the bereaved widow and the children of the deceased man. The family was met at the depot by several sympathizing friends and the party proceeded at once to Oak Hill cemetery where brief services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Barrington, rector of Christ church in the absence of Rev. J. A. M. Richey of Trinity church, who is in Madison. The pall bearers were J. L. Bear, Paul Young, John Richardson, W. H. Bonesteel, C. J. FLOCK INTO TOWN AFTER MILLET SEED

Rock County Farmers Drive to Janesville During the Day to Procure This Seed.

Discouraged with the outlook for a tobacco and hay crop the farmers in all parts of Rock county are now turning their attention to the sowing of millet. The heavy rain of Wednesday night has placed the ground in excellent condition and already hundreds of farmers have started plowing under their parched and half dead to-bacco plants. It is estimated that fully fifty Rock county farmers drove to town today to purchase millet seed. Early in the morning local grocery and seed men had their supply of seed to Chicago firms to hustle on more exhausted. Telegrams were sent to Chicago firms to hustle on more seed by express or fast freight.

Millet sold at $1 and 98 cents a bushel. The sowing of millet is now the last hope of the farmer for a cheap fodder for his live stock.

He then sentenced Bundy to one year at hard labor in the state reformatory at Green Bay from 12 o'clock today. Sheriff Maltress took him to Green Bay at 12:45 o'clock.

ENVOY OF STRIKERS FAILS

Combine Refuses to Entertain Compromise Offers.

THE MEN SEEK A MEDIATOR.

Senator Hanna Will Be Asked to Use
His Power in Negotiating Terms Between Strikers and Association—President Shaffer Takes Hopeful View.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—The peace mission of M. M. Garland, who went to New York on behalf of the conservative element in the Amalgamated Association of Steel and Iron Workers, has failed. Mr. Garland was unable to secure from the steel manufacturers any terms on which a settlement could be reached. They would not concede an inch from the attitude they have taken, holding that the workers precipitated the fight and peace negotiations are off. At the same time a more powerful influence is being sought to carry the olive branch to J. P. Morgan, Joseph Bishop, secretary of the Ohio State Board of Arbitration, is working as mediator, and plans to reach the combine people through Senator Hanna. Mr. Bishop is acting with the approval of the Amalgamated leaders and carries credentials from President Shaffer explaining the attitude of the association. There is little doubt that Senator Hanna will receive the association mediator graciously, and it is expected he will promise to exercise his best endeavors toward a settlement.

Strike Leader More Hopeful.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association was in a more hopeful mood today than he has been for some time. He declared he was satisfied with his inspection of the conditions in Wellsville and apprehended no difficulty in keeping his men in line in that place. President Shaffer evinced no surprise at the criticism offered by other labor leaders regarding his bringing on this battle at this time. He said he expected criticism, but that it did not alter his position nor the conviction he held that he was perfectly right. Organizer Flynn of the American Federation of Labor stated that organization was ready and waiting to assist the Amalgamated association, both financially and morally, in this strike, whenever this assistance was asked. President Shaffer denied the story that his mission to Wellsville was for the purpose of getting detectives into the mill in the guise of non-union workmen.

PLAN OF STEEL MEN.

Iron Age Outlines Their Probable Method.

New York, July 26.—The Iron Age in its issue to-day says: The strike in the rolling mills has not developed any special features during the week, and the feeling in the trade is that the power of the Amalgamated Association has been generally overrated. From a high source, comes the statement that the United States Steel corporation will wait until its men in non-union mills get ready to go to work and then plant after plant will be opened, which does not seem likely for some weeks. The decline in the product of the finishing mills will soon lead to the closing down of some of the steel plants and to either banking of furnaces or to the accumulation of pig iron. The longer this condition lasts the greater will be the necessity for the merchant furnaces who sell to the United States Steel corporation to look for an outlet in other directions.

The Ohio Steel company's plant at Youngstown has been put on steel rails, so that it can take up the work of South Chicago should any trouble arise there. This, of course, reduces the billet supply. The shortage of sheets and tin plate has already made itself felt, and jobbers' stocks are being drawn on heavily all over the country. There is a decidedly firmer feeling in iron bars and the recent weakness in steel bars has disappeared. The pig iron situation is puzzling. Statistically the position continues favorable, but there is a feeling of uncertainty and weakness cropping up in different places. This week business has been light all over the country. We note a sale of 10,000 tons of basic iron in the Philadelphia district.

Negroes in Distress.

Chicago, Ill., July 26.—Hungry and a-thirst, the 317 negroes brought from Alabama by the Latrobe Steel and Coupler company to fill positions in the corporation's mill at Melrose Park lay idly all of yesterday within the cars in which they had traveled from the South. The hot July sun blazed down on the coaches and the men and women, accustomed as they were to intense heat, suffered throughout the long hours of the summer day. Abandoned by the company for which they had come North to work, without food and far from water, they were a miserable lot. But they will not work in the Melrose Park mills. A race war is averted. In the afternoon the Latrobe Steel and Coupler company capitulated.

WITH SCHLEY IN THE BATTLE.

Eyewitness to Santiago Fight Strongly Defends the Admiral.

Chicago, July 26.—George E. Graham, a correspondent of the Associated Press, stood on the bridge of the Brooklyn during the battle of Santiago, close to Capt. Cook and Admiral Schley. He was the only civilian who witnessed every movement and was in a position to know every order issued by the admiral. His testimony regarding disputed incidents, prepared over his own signature, and outlined below, is particularly pertinent at this time, when the "affair" promises to become the most celebrated of the war.

Regarding the Maclay history, he matches the language in this equally spirited manner:

"Maclay, it is asserted, wrote his criticism from naval reports. What naval reports? The expurgated things that have been foisted upon the public, or the real reports of commanding officers? I have in my possession the report of the battle of Santiago, written by two officers of the converted yacht called the Vixen. It is signed by Lieut. Alexander Sharpe, and it was his account of the fight as he saw it at short range, the only naval eyewitness not engaged in fighting. I placed it alongside the navy department's book purporting to print it, and I find it has been expurgated so as to give but little credit to the Brooklyn, and so as not to disclose the real position of Sampson's ship, the New York. Is that the way history is made, and is Maclay to be blessed for boldly following the example set him? If 'coward' is to be the word let us draw the line sharply. I have supreme confidence in our navy. I don't believe a coward would stay in it a year. There is none in it now. There are men with unearned fighting soubriquets. There was one with us. His name was Evans. His ship was never closer to the enemy than one mile. It was not hit, but 'Fighting Bob' crawled into the conning tower and watched the fight from a six-inch by one-inch slit.

"Schley was on the deck of the Brooklyn. Capt. Cook was near. A man's lifeblood splashed their clothes. The ship quivered under fire. Still they stood there. Capt. Clark on the Oregon, was on his bridge. Capt. Philip of the Texas staid on his bridge until part of it was shot away. And when it was all over, Evans had the largest story to tell—a story he would not like to see now because of its gross inaccuracy. And, pray, who was the coward?"

Mr. Graham, describing the events that led up to the battle, says:

"The happenings of the twenty-four hours preceding the battle will go far, I think, to demonstrate that Sampson was reprehensible for deliberately weakening the line of battle and deserting the line himself when he knew that for the first time in several weeks, or since the establishment of the blockade, extremely suspicious movements were going on in the harbor. That Sampson himself recognized this is evident from the fact that he sent the Vixen around to the different ships of the squadron to announce to them that he considered the movements inside to be suspicious, and that he desired a close watch kept.

"At 9 o'clock Sampson suddenly signaled: 'Disregard the movements of the commander-in-chief,' and moved away from the line with the New York. The New York was the only other ship, besides the Brooklyn, in the line with the accredited speed of the Spanish ships, and there were present the Gloucester and the Vixen, two converted yachts, either one of which would have made a special dispatch boat without weakening the line.

"When the battle call was sounded Admiral Schley made the signal, 'The enemy is escaping,' and then, determining that the New York was out of sight, made the signal, 'Ships close in.' Sampson then was out of sight, and we never saw him again until one long hour after the surrender of the Colon."

AFTON REPORTS CROP DAMAGES

Fire and Wind Destroy Much Property
—Fifteen Head of Cattle
Killed by Lightning.

Afton, Wis., July 26.—Sunday afternoon about four o'clock a fire was discovered in the highway near M. L. Karney's residence in Spring Grove township. The wind was blowing at a high rate and the fire quickly spread taking everything in its course in the adjoining fields. It burned over the large pasture belonging to Charles Dinse, not leaving a fence post standing.

Charles Benjamin's field of oats containing ten acres was entirely burned. About one hundred men came and by heroic efforts saved his house and out buildings.

The meadows and pastures burned to Sugar River and then spread northward. The thermometer registered about 115 degrees above.

Mr. Dinse had a nice herd of young cattle and as his pasture all burned he shipped them to Chicago on Wednesday evening. The origin of the fire is unknown but it is supposed to have started from a cigar stub.

A heavy rain storm accompanied by wind and lightning visited this section Wednesday night. John Freedlund lost fifteen head of young cattle by lightning in a grove in his river pasture. The wind mill on M. Gilmore's farm was blown down.

Hay and grain stacks were blown down. Hay that had just been mowed was blown entirely out of the fields. Some report two-thirds of the hay in the stacks was carried out of sight.

Says She Acts Like a Cow.

Next to a mouse or the equally harmless cow the horseless vehicle is coming to have more terror for women than almost anything else. And it cannot be denied that this fear is not without foundation, for as Lord Beresford once said, these space annihilators "with the appearance of a hearse and the manners of a kangaroo," at times sweep through the streets with demoralizing speed. When a woman at a downtown crossing sees one of these machines come tearing along in her direction she does not know which way to turn, so quietly and swiftly does it rush on. It dazes her. It unsettles her nerves. Children run screaming at the approach of an auto. "I know," said a woman the other day, "that whenever I see an automobile coming toward me I act like a cow in front of a railway train. But I cannot help it. I am as afraid of it as I am of death."

Consumption of Coffee.

The total annual consumption of coffee in the United States, 302,000,000 lbs.; Germany, 344,000,000; France, 179,000,000; Austria-Hungary, 92,000,000; Italy, 31,000,000; Great Britain, 29,000,000; Russia, 18,000,000. The United States thus consumes more coffee than all other countries together. It has imported coffee as follows: In 1870, 231,000,000 lbs.; 1880, 440,000,000; 1890, 490,000,000. The amount per inhabitant was in 1870, 6 pounds; in 1898, 11.45 pounds; 1899, 10.55 pounds. France uses per inhabitant, 4.6 pounds; Austria, 2 pounds; Great Britain, 0.7 pound. The importations come from different countries as below: Brazil, 628,000,000 pounds; Venezuela, 62,000,000; Colombia, 23,000,000; Mexico, 27,000,000; Costa Rica, 17,000,000; Guatemala, 15,000,000.

Braid on Men's Coats.

No new fashion in men's dress is so distinctive of this season as the braid to be found on coats now coming here from London tailors and made up by the best of the local establishments. For a decade or more the rough cloths made in frock or morning coats have been finished without braid and it began to look as if the old fashion of garments was never to be restored to favor. English makers began a year ago to send their American customers these coats trimmed with braid and they have now taken their place among the necessities of this season's fashions.—New York Sun.

How They Eat Oranges.

The style of eating oranges in Cuba is to peel the luscious fruit round and round as an apple would be, care being taken to cut just through the yellow rind, leaving the white skin entire. It is then cut open through the middle and eaten from the hand, no spoons being used. Oranges already peeled are for sale at every fruit stand, though Americans, it is noticed, in Cuba prefer to peel their own.

Rich Receive Begging Letters.

It is well known that wealthy men and their families are continually annoyed by begging letters of all kinds. A daughter of one extremely rich man said a few days ago that her father's aversion to "character studies" of him in magazines and articles with regard to him anywhere, was largely due to the fact that whenever one of these articles appeared, it was but the suggestion for a vast flood of begging letters, in addition to the ordinary stream.—New York Evening Sun.

Australia's Imperial Opal.

The Imperial opal, which the owner, Mr. Maurice Lyons, an Australian lawyer, intended to present to Queen Victoria, in honor of Federated Australia, has been on view in London. The gem is worth probably more than $250,000, and the owner is now anxious to present it to King Edward to form part of the royal regalia. It is about two inches long and one and a half inches in depth, and weighs 250 carats. It was discovered about six years ago in Western Queensland. It is one of the largest opals ever seen, and displays more brilliantly all the colors of the rainbow.

NOTICE!

Now that the wall paper rush is over, we are better able than ever to care for your wants. The treatment of wall papers nowadays differs widely from the old-fashioned methods. They are adjusted to the walls and their surroundings with the same care for artistic effect that the artist gives when applying his colors to the canvas. Floral designs are cut out and applied with all the effectiveness of a mural painting; striped designs are prettily mitered and made to yield a much handsomer effect than their cost would intimate. Inexpensive papers for bedrooms are handled in many ingenious ways; for example, rooms with low ceilings are made to look higher, or by another treatment the reverse effect is produced. Such work, of course, must be done by experts; and we employ skilled artists and designers to assist our customers in making selections and give helpful advice on all subjects referring to interior decoration.
